CONGRESSMEN SEEK AID OF PRESIDENT

Democratic Members Urge Wilson to Make Speeches in Support of Campaigns.

Democratic members of the House and Senate who wait to come back to Washington after the November elections, are continuing to seek the President's personal and active support in their local campaigns. And despite the earlier impression that the President would not take the stump, the indications now are that he is giving the suggestions earnest consideration.

Senator Allen Pomeroy, of Ohio, went to the White House again today to urge the President to address the Democratic State convention at Columbus some time this month, and for that reason his friends are urging the President's advisers to consider the need for a strenuous campaign in Ohio to give that State to the President. At the same time the Senator's trenches are likewise vulnerable in spots, and it is thought that if the President would go out and address the State convention he would give the Senator's campaign as well as his own in Ohio the necessary "pep."

Of the Democratic nomination for reelection the Senator is said to be practically sure, and for that reason his friends look upon the convention merely as a ratification meeting. His opponent is former Congressman John J. Lentz. The primaries will be held next Friday. The Republican primaries, to be held the same day, are not so certain. The fight for the Republican nomination is a three-cornered affair. The candidates are former Governor Herrick, Harry M. Doherty, and former Senator Charles Dick. Herrick and Doherty are said to be running close, with Dick working strenuously on the unpledged voters.

The President told Senator Pomeroy today that he was giving the Columbus invitation careful consideration. His decision may depend on whether Congress adjourns before the date of the convention.

STERLING WOULD TAX MONEYS AND CREDITS

Introduces Amendment to District
Bill for This Purpose.

If an amendment proposed by Senator Sterling to the District bill prevails, moneys and credits will be assessed in Washington the same as tangible personal property and will be taxed at one-half of 1 per cent. The amendment is as follows:

"That the moneys and credits including moneys loaned and invested, bonds, and shares of stock except the shares of banks and other corporations within the District of Columbia, the taxation of which is herein provided for by any person, firm, association or corporation within said District shall be scheduled and appraised in the manner provided by paragraph one of said section six for listing and appraisal of tangible personal property and assessed at their fair cash value and as taxes on said moneys and credits there shall be paid to the tax collector of the District one-half of 1 per cent of the value thereof."

Congressional Union Seeks Hughes' Support

Members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage are eagerly awaiting Mr. Hughes' acceptance speech in New York tonight, with the hope that the Republican nominee will declare himself in favor of the Federal suffrage amendment.

Miss Alice Paul, head of the union, is in New York and is to be present tonight at the notification meeting. Union members here have been active during the last month in and about the Capitol and through their efforts a number of Senators and Congressmen have been persuaded to send letters to Mr. Hughes urging his support of the suffrage amendment.

LAWMAKER AGAIN ATTACKS REDFIELD

Rogers Insists Commercial Attache Should Be Under State Dept.

Insisting that the commercial attache service should be under the State Department rather than the Department of Commerce, Congressman John J. Rogers, of Massachusetts, has written another letter to Secretary Redfield in criticism of the service as now administered.

Mr. Rogers also asserts that the Secretary of Commerce has exceeded his authority by making an "offensive" reply to a speech Mr. Rogers delivered in the House several weeks ago.

The Massachusetts member cites the constitutional prohibition that members of Congress "shall not be questioned in any other place" for words spoken in debate on the floor of Congress. The Redfield reply, according to Mr. Rogers, transcends this requirement and is "deliberately insulting" in its tenor.

Congressman Rogers contends that if the commercial attache are to do efficient work in the promotion of the foreign trade of the United States they should be under the State Department.

He criticizes Secretary Redfield for appointing as the chief commercial agents of the United States men who were not equipped by training for this particular work.
